

NOTICE OF COMMERCIAL DRIVER LICENSE EXTENSIONS

In response to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the Department of Licensing (DOL) is extending Washington commercial driver licenses (CDLs) and commercial learner permits (CLPs). CDLs and CLPs with expiration dates on or after March 1, 2020 are extended through May 31, 2021, unless they have already been renewed.

The extension affects all CDL types and all endorsements except CDLs with a hazardous materials (hazmat) endorsement. To date, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) has not issued an extension for hazmat drivers.

You will not receive a new driver license with a new expiration date. You can present this letter with an expired license if asked by law enforcement or others who need to verify your identity. Late fees will not be assessed during the extension period.

Don't wait to renew

This extension is in line with guidance from the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration and TSA to keep essential transportation services operational. It is in effect for a limited time. DOL has temporary rules in place making almost everyone eligible for online renewals, so act now to renew your license/permit. There is nothing to be gained by waiting.
